DIARY NOTES

DD/S

24 October 1963

1. At the Executive Committee Meeting this morning:

a. The Director said that a member of the Zablocki Committee had said that he was surprised to find that the CIA man in [REDACTED] identified himself openly at a dinner party. He requested that this particular incident be looked into and that the Deputy Director (Plans) caution all Station Chiefs not to relax their cover. He felt that there might be a tendency in this regard due to the [REDACTED] exposition, etc.

b. Mr. Kirkpatrick said that he had just learned that a young JOT named [REDACTED] who was severely burned in Vietnam, was on two-thirds pay. He wondered whether the Director had the authority to restore his full salary. I undertook to look into this matter. In the course of the day I found that the [REDACTED] case is being handled under the Federal Employees Compensation Act and that he is on leave from the Agency during this period. He is, in fact, receiving two-thirds of his pay, which happens to be only $12 a week less than his full pay at the time of his accident. His hospitalization is completely provided for, however, and during the time that he is carried on BEC rolls he does not pay Government insurance or contribute to the Retirement Fund although he is fully covered in both fields. In addition, his entire BEC compensation is tax-free. Hence, I concluded that he is perhaps a little better off in dollars and cents than he would be if he were receiving full pay. (I reported on this at the Executive Committee Meeting on Friday, 25 October, to everybody's apparent satisfaction. I asked [REDACTED] to give a presentation on BEC benefits at the next DD/S Staff Meeting; if it is good, we could perhaps present it at a Senior Staff Meeting. There is obviously a need for broader dissemination of information pertaining to BEC benefits, which are in some respects better than military benefits.)

2. I presided over a meeting at which [REDACTED] gave a briefing on new DOD procurement procedures involving incentive type contracting. I thought the briefing went fairly well. I did not sense that the technical people were hostile to the idea and, in fact, gathered that some of them were very enthusiastic. I have asked Marty to modify this briefing slightly and to inform me when the changes have been made so that we can arrange for it to be given to Mr. Kirkpatrick, the Comptroller, and other officials.

3. I reported to [REDACTED] who is sitting in [REDACTED] chair, that Misses [REDACTED] had resigned. I said, however, that this course did not relieve us of the responsibility for coming up with a report of whether there had been any supervisory failure and that we would do this in due time.
